Lieutenant, Stationed at Brooklyn, Arrives This Morning for Two Weeks Visit With Parents.

Lieutenant Jesse W. Miller, Jr., who is in Maryville visiting his parents attended two sessions of the Democratic National Convention at New York City. Lieutenant Miller attended the Saturday and Wednesday sessions of the convention as the guest of George Robb Ellison of Maryville.

In speaking of the convention today he said, "The concensus of opinion seems to be that neither McAdoo nor Smith will be nominated but as neither will withdraw his forces the delegates are searching at random for a solution of the problem.

"All of the delegates are tired and ready to return to their homes as soon as a compromise candidate can be nominated or one of the two leaders withdraws."

Lieutenant Miller, who is stationed at the Brooklyn, N. Y., naval hospital, arrived in Maryville this morning for a two weeks' furlough.

NEW PHYSICAL ED. COURSE EXPLAINED

BY STATE SUPT. OF SCHOOLS CHAS. A. LEE.

EDUCATORS ARE PRESENT

At Meeting At College Thursday Express Approval and Pledge Their Support.

An explanation of the new physical education program for high schools of Missouri has been sent out by Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools. It was received by S. C. Richeson, state high school inspector for Northwest Missouri, and was discussed at the meeting of school superintendents and principals held at the College last Thursday. The educators present at this meeting expressed their approval and pledged their support to this physical education program. The instructions from Superintendent Lee follows:

In the Law of 1921, the State Superintendent of Schools is "Authorized and directed" to promulgate rules and regulations to provide physical education "for all pupils and students in all public schools and in all educational institutions, supported in whole or in part by the state."

Beginning with the Fall of 1924, physical education will become a part of the program in all public schools. Cities having more than thirty teachers should employ a full-time Physical Director.

For this year a minimum of ten hours credit in hygiene and physical education will be required of physical directors. For next year and thereafter, all Physical Directors will be required to have as a minimum fifteen hours in Health Education. Full-time Physical Directors should have specialized in Health Education with a minimum of at least thirty hours. The Department will keep a list of available people on file and will be glad to furnish superintendents with names and addresses of qualified people.

So far as possible, the credits of Physical Directors should be in line with the work required. While it is an advantage for a man to have played football and basket ball, this will not be a direct preparation for him to handle classes in physical education. The preparation should include the theory of physical education, the practice of general gymnastics and dancing, and especially the games and athletics of the state program. In many systems, it would be better to employ a woman rather than a man. Women ars usually more skillful with the smaller children, and in teaching games to the other teachers.

One unit in hygiene and physical education is required for high school graduation in 1925, one and a half in 1926 and two units credit in 1927.

The work may be organized on either of the following bases: first, one-half unit credit each year in physical education and hygiene. On this basis, for a school term of thirty-six weeks, or 180 days there would be 135 periods of physical exercise and 45 periods of hygiene, on the basis of three to one each year during the first three years. MORE PAVING IS TO BE CONSIDERED

BY CITY COUNCIL AT MEETING NEXT TUESDAY.

ACCEPTS THE PAVING

Work of Cook & O'Brien Co., On West Fifth and North Market Streets, Two Blocks.

More paving for Maryville will be discussed Tuesday night when the City Council will be in session at a special meeting. The grades having been established by the City Council at a recent meeting for portions of South Main street and also of Dunn and Market streets, the proposition of ordering in paving will come up for discussion. Market street between Second and First streets has been under consideration for some time, especially when that portion of Market street between Second and Third streets was ordered paved this spring.

The grade having been established on Dunn street between Second and Fourth streets, along the part of the Wabash tracks, paving on these two blocks may be seriously considered by the commissioners so as to join West Fourth and West Third streets.

A petition having already been presented to the City Council by a majority of the property owners on South Main street between Halasey and Lincoln streets, requesting seven inch re-inforced concrete paving, the Council may take steps immediately for paving this portion of South Main street by introducing a resolution next Tuesday evening.

The City Council met Thursday evening at an adjourned meeting to pass an ordinance accepting two blocks of paving put in by the Cook & O'Brien Construction Co., of Kansas City this summer. The Council, after hearing the inspection report of the city engineer, Joseph E. Reece, ordered by an ordinance that the work of grading, paving and curbing West Fifth street between Main and Buchanan streets, and Market street, between Third and Second streets, be accepted and levied special tax and directed the issue of special tax bills against the abutting property on the portion of these two streets.

The total cost of the grading, paving and curbing of West Fifth street between Main and Buchanan streets, paved with vitrified brick, 1,359 square yards, is $5,622.18. The total cost for the grading, curbing and paving Market street between Second and Third streets with vitrified paving brick, 1,416 square yards, is $5,918.33.

The City Council granted D. E. Hotchkin permission to erect a sign on the north side of his building at the meeting Thursday night.

Fire Believed Caused by Balloon or Rocket

Blaze Last Night Destroys Roof at Home of Ed Fargo, Sixth and Walnut Streets—Damage $250.

A fire at the home of Ed Fargo, corner of Sixth and Walnut streets, about 10 o'clock last night, destroyed the roof of the house, causing an estimated damage of $250.

There had been no fire in the stove since morning and it is thought the blaze was caused by a sky rocket or toy balloon. It is said that a balloon dropped near there a few minutes before the fire started.

The house is owned by Mrs. Anna Carter. It was nearly an hour before the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the blaze, as a hole had to be cut in the roof in order to get at the fire.

AGREEMENT SOUGHT AFTER 77 BALLOTS

TOM TAGGART OF INDIANA PAVES WAY FOR SOLUTION.

SMITH REACHES PEAK

Receives 368 Votes on the 76th Ballot —Motion to Adjourn to K. C. Fails.

(By Radio)

A motion was made by Tom Taggart of Indiana that in order to hasten an agreement in the Democratic convention the chairman of the convention and the national Democrat chairman call a conference of the representatives of the various candidates whose names are being voted on at the present time, and at this meeting some agreement of compromise be made. The motion was carried without a dissenting vote.

At the motion of a delegate from Utah the convention was adjourned until 11 o'clock Monday morning. This is nine o'clock Maryville time. The convention adjourned at 3:45 o'clock, Eastern time.

The Democrat-Forum radio will be tuned in at this time and it is to be hoped, by all that an understanding will be reached between the candidates and a nominee be chosen.

But few scattered changes were noted on the 77th ballot. McAdoo and Smith both held their votes and the remainder of the votes were divided about as usual. Franklin D. Roosevelt broke into the Democrat ranks when Wisconsin cast a vote to him at the expense of McAdoo.

Lieutenant Sutterlin's Twenty-Seventh Division band opened up the seventeenth session of the National Democratic Convention at Madison Square Garden on the eleventh day at 10:30 o'clock this morning. At that time the Kansas City Star's radio announcer at New York stated that only 25 per cent of the delegates were present—evidently taking a long sleep after the trying sessions on the Fourth of July.

The Rev. William Carter of the True Avenue Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn offered the invocation.

RESORTS TO ARBITRATION TO PAVE WAY FOR AN AGREEMENT

COMMITTEE TO CONFER WITH REPRESENTATIVES.

77 BALLOTS TAKEN

Efforts Made Earlier to Narrow Field and Adjourn to Kansas City —Measures Defeated.

Madison Square Garden, New York City, July 5.—The Democratic national convention resorted to arbitration shortly after taking seventy-seven ballots in a futile effort to nominate a presidential candidate, late today.

Senator King of Utah immediately moved an adjournment until 11 o'clock Monday morning. While there was vigorous objection, Walsh finally ruled that the adjournment motion had passed.

At the conclusion of a hectic day which had witnessed efforts to move the convention to Kansas City and seen three efforts to narrow the field down by elimination, failed by a vote from the floor, a number of the leaders got together in the middle of the afternoon and report out a resolution which provided in effect that Cordell Hull, chairman of the national committee, and Thomas J. Walsh, permanent chairman of this convention, be appointed a committee of two to consult with the representatives of the various candidates and try to reach an agreement that will hasten the conclusion of the convention.

The resolution read as follows:

"I move that when this convention adjourns foday, the chairman of the Democratic national committee and the chairman of this convention be requested to call a conference of representatives of the candidates whose names are now being balloted for and who have been formally presented, for the purpose of reaching an understanding so as to hasten the conclusion of this convention."

It was adopted with only a few voices in opposition.

Immediately after this was adopted, the convention adjourned until 11 o'clock Monday morning, the consultation and conference of Hull and Walsh with the candidates' managers to take place in the meanwhile.

New York, July 5.—A sensational move to take the Democratic national convention away from New York and reconvene it again in Kansas City on July 21 was overwhelmingly defeated on the floor of the convention this afternoon in a roll call vote. The vote to adjourn to Kansas City was 82.7 yes, and 1,097.3 no. The movement was sponsored by A. H. Ferguson, a delegate from Oklahoma.

After the Kansas City resolution was finished, Judge T. H. Ball of Texas made an unusual motion. The judge proposed that from now on, the lowest candidate on each ballot be dropped from consideration until only two are left, and that when this condition was reached, only five ballots could be taken. If at the end of these five ballots, no one was able to get two-thirds of the vote, then the unit rule would be abolished, and on the sixth ballot the candidate receiving the majority should be declared to be the nominee of the party.

After several moments of heated argument from the delegates on the floor, in which William J. Bryan took a prominent part, Chairman Walsh asked for a vote and without a roll call, the resolution was voted down. This was the third of its kind the convention had voted down in almost as many hours. The McAdoo forces were afraid of Ball's resolution because it involved possible abrogation of the unit rule and they did not want this rule tampered with as they control a number of states under the unit rule by narrow margins.

New York, July 5.—Twice in the first two hours of its session today, the Democratic national convention voted down proposals that would have provided for progressive elimination of favorite sons among the candidates for the presidency and leave from two to five to fight it out among themselves.

Both proposals were designed to break the deadlock that has continued for six days through seventy-six ballots. Both were backed by the McAdoo forces and opposed by the anti-McAdoo forces.

The first of these proposals by Ed H. Semans, a delegate from Oklahoma, was howled down without a roll call. It was too drastic. It would have provided for the elemination of all but two candidates by automatically taking off the lowest man on each ballot until only the pair—McAdoo and Smith—were left.

The second proposal was by Gilbert H. Hitchcock of Nebraska and was considerably less drastic. It would have eliminated all but five and the elimination to only have lasted for one day. On this there was a roll call and it was overwhelmingly defeated by a vote of 496 ayes to 599½ noes. It reqiured a two-thirds vote to pass because a suspension of the rules was involved, and it could not even command a majority.

When the Hitchcock resolution was voted down, A. H. Ferguson, a delegate from Oklahoma, sent to the platform a resolution stating that it being apparent no nomination was possible here, he moved an adjournment after the seventy-fifth ballot, the convention to reconvene on July 21 in Kansas City to "complete the business for which it was called."

John G. Fitzgerald of Brooklyn, one of the Smith leaders, made a point of order against the Oklahoman's resolution but this was not sustained by the chairman. This resolution was also overwhelmingly defeated, there being only 82.7 votes cast in its favor.

Carter Glass May Be Given Opportunity

George Robb Ellison Says There Is Talk of Virginian As Compromise Between McAdoo and Smith.

George R. Ellison, who is a delegate to the national Democratic convention in New York, sent the following message to the Democrat-Forum today:

"The convention is despondent this morning. The protracted struggle between McAdoo and Smith is thought to be injuring the party. My belief is that neither can be nominated or elected. The talk now is of Senator Carter Glass. A majority of the Missouri delegation would go to any good man."

Mr. Ellison in his message stated he received the copy of Tuesday's Democrat-Forum which was sent by aeroplane mail on Friday morning.

Fifty Years Ago

Fifty Years Ago.

(Taken from the Nodaway Democrat, July 2, 1874.)

Yesterday morning, C. Kuenster had a horse bitten by a snake and wanted to, and did, administer a large dose of whiskey. He at once thought of the liquor law which does not allow whisky to be drank on the premises of the salesman. He accordingly hunted all over town for H. M. Jackson, Esq., County Attorney, and finally found him and wanted to pay the fine that would be assessed. He knew that the law did not specify whether the whisky should be drank by a man or a horse. We did not learn how much it cost him.

There will be three horse races on the fairground track on the Fourth of July, commencing at 3 o'clock. Carriages will be run from town to the fairgrounds.

P. W. Olwell has just placed a steam whistle on his mill and now its music awakens the echoes of the vicinity, and sounds like business.

Under the late act of Congress no postage will be charged on papers in the counties where printed, after the first of next January. Papers circulated outside the county where printed will have to be prepaid. We consider the law a good one.

S. K. Snively, Esq., has under his control a free scholarship in the Louisville, Ky., Medical College, which some deserving young man in Nodaway County might have by applying to him.

FAIL TO NOMINATE WITH 70 BALLOTS

RADIO STILL KEEPS AUDITORS IN TOUCH WITH CON.

CONVENE ON THE 4TH

Result of Ballots and Running Account of Convention Thursday Evening and Friday.

(BY RADIO.)

The following story is an account taken by radio of the National Democratic convention starting with the session Thursday night up to and including the sixteenth session last night:

Fourteenth session of National Democratic convention reconvened at 8:30 Thursday night. Radio reports coming clear. Invocation read and was concluded by reading the Lord's Prayer.

The announcer for the radio audience said that there is something in the air, an electric current going through everybody. Delegates standing in groups. Something pervading the audience. Thinks that something will happen and it was the first time that he had prophesied.

Chairman Walsh announced that if the session is not completed that evening and is adjourned until Friday, the session in the morning will open by singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by Mrs. Mill of Helena, Mont., and the reading of the "Declaration of Independence" by Augustus Thomas.

Chairman Walsh called for order in the convention. A resolution was introduced on the floor of the convention by John A. Lash of Alabama that the convention remain in session without recess except for ten minutes informally until the nomination of a candidate for president be made. A point of order was made by a Georgia delegate that resolution be thrown out, which was sustained by Chairman Walsh.

The roll call for the fifty-fifth ballot was called.

Nevada first voted six McAdoo and one of the delegates asked for poll and the Chairman passed the state. The poll of the Nevada delegation was four McAdoo, two Smith. According to the instructions to the delegates they vote entire six votes for McAdoo. McAdoo gained nine and one-half votes on the fifty-fifth ballot.

McAdoo	42.5
Smith	320.5
Davis	62.5
Ralston	97
Underwood	40
Robinson	43
Cox	54
Ritchie	16.5
Saulsbury	6
Owen	4
Bryan	3

Glass	24

Ralston gained five votes on the fifty-fifth ballot. He has increased his poll from thirty-one on the forty-third ballot, the first one taken Thursday morning to ninety-seven, a jump of sixty-six.

Fifty-Sixth Ballot.

McAdoo	430
Smith	320.5
Davis	58.5
Ralston	97
Underwood	39.5
Robinson	43
Glass	25
Cox	54
Ritchie	16.5
Saulsbury	6
Owen	4
Bryan	3
Walsh	1

On the 57th ballot there was no change noted in the voting by states until Nebraska was called.

Fifty-Seventh Ballot.

McAdoo	430
Smith	320.5
Ralston	97
Underwood	39.5
Ritchie	16.5
Davis	58.5
Robinson	43
Glass	25
Cox	54
Saulsbury	6
Walsh	1
Owen	4
Bryan	3

No changes noticeable hardly at all.

On the fifty-eighth ballot Louisiana cast her 20 votes to Mayor Behrman of New Orleans. Smith gained ten votes out of the Michigan delegation at the expense of McAdoo. A big demonstration follows this announcement. The state of Nebraska places a sign in its section which reads, "This is Al Smith's Convention."

Fourteen states are still parading around the convention floor at the end of five-minute period. After another lapse of five minutes Chairman Walsh announces that the clerk continue with the roll call. Another parade starts when McAdoo regains twenty votes from Mississippi. This brings a cheer from the audience in front of the Hanamo Telephone Co., and Democrat-Forum.

This demonstration lasted for several minutes. The states are breaking changing over from one candidate to another. The Fifty-eighth ballot—it may not be long before the long expected deadlock is twisted and then finally broken, so that one of the candidates may poll the necessary number of votes.

Ellison Votes For McAdoo.

Missouri passes on the fifty-eighth ballot because of the accuracy of the vote is challenged. A poll of the Missouri delegation called for. George Robb Ellison of Maryville changed over to McAdoo. The large audience outside is shivering. (The static is becoming bad). The result of the Missouri vote:

One absent, Ralston, 9½; Walsh, ½; Underwood 1, McAdoo 24. McAdoo gets the entire 36 votes. Oklahoma is being polled. The result is twenty for McAdoo. A small slide for McAdoo.

McAdoo Gains 65 Votes.

It is now 11:30 o'clock in New York. On the fifty-eighth ballot McAdoo gained sixty-five votes, Smith gained eleven and a half, Ralston lost forty-six and a half, and Behrman received twenty-eight votes from Louisiana. Louisiana switched again on the fifty-ninth ballot, going over to Davis of West Virginia. The Democrats are even now with their record of fifty-nine ballots.

Oklahoma, which has been the finiky state, casting its ballots first one way and then the other, on the fifty-ninth ballot voted for Owens, having voted for McAdoo before. South Dakota cast its entire ten votes for McAdoo. William Jennings Bryan goes over to the Michigan delegation for a conference. Lieutenant Maughan, who made the cross-country flight in one day was introduced to the audience.

The eve of the 4th of July having arrived, the audience arose and sang the "Star Spengled Banner" lead by Mme. Cleaver. All those seated in front of the Democrat-Forum and Telephone Co. office arose from their seats.

The clock on the tower of the courthouse just struck 10 o'clock as the roll was called for the sixtieth ballot.

Fourth of July in New York.

It was then Fourth of July in New York and the Democrats are voting on the sixtieth ballot of the fourteenth session. Reports that a big break would come on the fifty-ninth ballot have proved false. West Virginia now reporting and so far on the sixtieth ballot only a change of three votes. Evidently a case of endurance. The radio crowd is diminishing slightly and those remaining are buttoning up their coats. They have a lot of patience. Lieut. Sutterlin's band now strikes up a popular air.

There is practically no difference in the sixtieth ballot from the fifty-ninth.

After the sixtieth ballot was read a motion was put before the convention to adjourn until 10 o'clock, which was amended to 10:30 o'clock. This motion lost. Another motion put before the house to adjourn until 1 o'clock was put to a vote and the Nays had it. Chairman Walsh called the roll for the sixty-first ballot.

On the sixty-first ballot a demonstration was effected for Governor Smith—Illinois switched five of its votes from McAdoo to Gov. Smith.

Well Cox gained five and a half votes on the sixty-first ballot. The seventh ballot of the fourteenth session. And yet no Democratic presidential candidate is named. The Democrats broke the record tonight on the highest number of ballots cast at any convention in the history of the party in order to name a candidate.—Yes, and the hotel bills mounting for the delegates every minute. It costs you 50 cents to turn around in New York City. The farmers will have to have bumper crops this year.

After the sixty-first ballot was read a motion to adjourn until 1 o'clock in the afternoon was carried, practically unanimously—yes we are getting mighty sleepy also.

So again the convention will reconvene, on the Fourth of July, 11 o'clock in the morning Maryville time. The holiday vacation of one day on the Fourth, which was much premeditated will be broken into.—Gosh. Well, a Democrat candidate has to be nominated so we will be on hand to aid. Good night. 11:16 p. m., by the Naval Observatory clock in the office.

The convention reconvened at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, New York time, for the fifteenth session. Five ballots were taken and after the Roosevelt motion to hear Governor Smith speak in the evening was voted down after the sixty-sixth ballot the convention adjourned to 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

The first real indication that a break would come soon was at the sixty-fifth ballot.

A telegram from James M. Cox of Ohio was read by the head of the Ohio delegation to the convention just before the vote from this state was called. It was to the effect that Cox would withdraw his name at a time when the delegation thought that it would cause a break of the deadlock in the convention. Ohio then cast its forty-eight votes for Newton D. Baker of Ohio, former secretary of war.

A motion was made to adjourn at 5 o'clock and to convene in executive session at 8 o'clock. The motion also carried a "rider" which provided that all the candidates or their representatives be invited to address the convention. The motion was defeated by a narrow margin.

A motion was introduced by Franklin D. Roosevelt providing that an invitation be extended to Governor Al Smith to address the convention in the evening for not more than thirty minutes. The motion was defeated by a vote of 604 to 473. The Missouri delegation voted against the motion.

The convention reconvened for the sixteenth session at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening and balloted until 12:20 a. m., Saturday morning. Adjourned to 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Michigan changed somewhat on the sixty-ninth ballot, causing a big demonstration in which twenty states joined in a parade. Michigan gave McAdoo twenty votes and Smith five votes. On the preceding ballot Michigan voted seven and a half each for McAdoo, Smith, Davis and Underwood. Oklahoma also changed on the sixty-ninth ballot, switching from Owen to McAdoo. McAdoo will undoubtedly reach his peak on this ballot.

McAdoo did not lack much of having a majority, a majority being 549½, on the sixty-ninth ballot, receiving a total of 530 votes, the highest number he had yet received. When the woman clerk read his vote pandemonium broke loose. McAdoo received two demonstrations on this ballot. He gained forty-one and a half votes.

Smith, of New York, is being boomed for the Democratic nomination for Governor of N. Y. York. Lieutenant Lowell Smith, commanding the Army 'round-the-world aviators, is having the pontoons taken from the three airplanes in Calcutta, India, for the overland flight to Hull, Eng., where they will be replaced. Heroic Rescue of Wife Achieved by Blind Man

Denver, July 5.—"Bill" Johnson, forty-two and blind, is the hero of West Denver today. He rescued his wife from drowning when a boat in which they were fishing overturned in Crown Hill Lake.

When the woman sank, Johnson, who can swim just a bit, paddled about calling for his wife. She rose to the surface and, luckily, struck his arm. Johnson, struggling fiercely, managed to bear her up until his hand grasped the upturned boat. With a heroic effort he threw the woman's arms over the craft and grabbed hold himself. After resting momentarily, Johnson, with only his wife's voice to guide him, struck out for the shore and finally reached firm ground again.

Girl Honor Pupils Sets New Mileage Record

Pittsfield, Mass., July 5.—Here's something to talk about.

Records are shattered in track, base ball and various other lines of endeavor during the course of the year, but here is one that is a record itself.

The holder is Miss Doris Ellen Tower, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. Matthew D. E. Tower of Becket, who was graduated recently from the High School of Commerce of Springone of 12 honor pupils in a closs of 137

During her four years' course she has traveled 80 miles per day, 400 miles per week, with a total of approximately 16,000 miles a year, or 64,000 miles altogether, of which she walked 3,200. She never missed the morning train leaving Becket for Springfield, and had it not been for six day's illness she would have had an attendance percentage mark of 100 for the four years.

This is a record, at least so far as the Berkenshires is concerned.

Finally enough delegates arrived and Chairman Walsh called the roll for the seventy-first ballot. No change on the seventy-first and seventy-second ballots, except that McAdoo lost a couple of votes and Smith lost one vote.

On the seventy-second ballot Colorado passed. Smith gained a vote from the Florida delegation and Baker gained one and a half from North Carolina.

A majority vote is all that is needed to adjourn to Kansas City, announces Chairman Walsh. The convention floor is a scene of excitement. The Smith followers appear afraid to let their candidate come to a test against the McAdoo strength. Everyone is clamoring for recognition from Chairman Walsh A gentleman from Missouri was once recognized but was drowned out by the din. Chairman Walsh has a hard time making himself heard and continued heard and continually pounds for order on the sounding board.

The secretary starts to call the roll. When Missouri is reached the chair recognized Governor Gardner. He announces that Missouri will break the unit rule on this ballot. The result was for adjourning seven and one-half against adjourning, twenty-eight.

New York asks to be excused from voting. Objections are made to New York being excused from voting. New York then votes ninety no. The motion was snowed under by the balloting, receiving only eighty-two and seven-tenths, the nays 1007.7.

The chairman recognizes the gentleman from Texas. As a result of the lost motion he offers the resolution that the lowest man be dropped on each ballot until two remain. Then that only five ballots be taken and then the unit rules be dropped and the candidate receiving the majority votes then be declared the nominee of the convention. Chairman Walsh then expressed the desire that the delegates not receive instructions from the gallery.

Objections and point of order were cited to Chairman Walsh but the chair overruled these. The chair then rules that this motion is not subject to debate, and that the motion requires two-third vote to carry.

A gentleman from Kentucky demands a right to second the motion as made by Judge Hall of Texas.

"The nays have it," announces Walsh after a vote has been taken.

The roll call of the states is again the order of business although there seems to be considerable objection to this.

Before the seventy-third ballot was taken a delegate from Oklahoma moved that the favorite sons receiving the lowest number of votes drop out as each ballot is taken until only two candidates remain in the race for the Democratic presidential nominee. An objection was made to this motion. Chairman Walsh then took a vote by acclamation to see whether the rules be suspended and it was defeated.

Before the seventy-fourth ballot Hitchcock of Nebraska introduced a resolution that after the seventy-fifth ballot is taken the lowest man on each succeeding ballot be dropped until only five candidates are left in the field and remain in force for today only. A roll call of the states was taken on the resolution and it lacked the necessary two-thirds to carry. The vote on this resolution was 496 for and 589.5 against. Missouri voted for the resolution.

Another motion was introduced after reading the results of the seventy-third ballot. Ferguson of Oklahoma made a motion that after the seventy-fifth ballot is taken, in case no candidate receives a two-thirds vote in order to nominate, the convention adjourn to meet at Kansas City at Convention Hall on Monday, July 21, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The chair recognizes Judge Hall of Texas. Judge Hall offers that at the conclusion of the next roll call —The chair demands that the business was to lay the Oklahoma resolution on the table as moved by Fitzgerald and so refuses to recognize Hall. A vote was taken to adjourn to Kansas City and the chair in unable to decide the votes and the secretary calls the roll.

Ohio breaks on the 74th ballot and Smith received twenty and one-half votes. McAdoo failed to get a vote in this break. Smith reached his highest margin on this ballot when he received 364 votes. McAdoo dropped to 510.

On the 75th ballot Michigan gave McAdoo three more votes, now having nine and a half, and Smith lost two votes. Smith picked up one in Ohio. McAdoo did not receive a vote in Ohio. North Carolina changed some, giving McAdoo seventeen and a half, Davis five and Underwood one and a half votes.

Smith reached his peak on the 75th ballot, receiving 366.5 votes, enough to tie up the convention, one-third of the 1098 votes.

Smith Gets 368 Votes.

McAdoo received a vote from West Virginia on the 76th ballot and Smith one, this state having voted for Davis before. For the first time Governor Smith received enough votes to prevent any other candidate from being elected, the poll of the 76th ballot giving him 368 votes.

"DEACON" DOBYNS DIED THURSDAY

IT WAS AN EMPHY FOURTH OF JULY WITH ED. DOBYNS DEAD.

FUNERAL HELD TODAY

Veteran Editor, Laid Low by Illness, Was the Civic Handy Man of the Town.

Oregon, Mo., July 5.—Nothing will seem quit right in Oregon now. "Deacon" Dobyns is dead. The end came to the "Deacon" at St. Joseph Thursday night, and the "Glorious Fourth" was an empty thing here yesterday.

Mr. Dobyns was what might be called an all around handy man in Oregon. He could do more things than the average citizen in a small town and delighted in giving his friends and neighbors the benefit of his experience and knowledge. If the Sunday school was having a picnic or an entertainment, it was "Deacon" who planned it; if the boys were celebrating New Year's with a ball, if the school was staging a show, if the politicians wanted to "put something over" on the opposition, the "Deacon's" services were invariably requisitioned. Even the farmers went to him with their problems and he never farmed a day in his life.

So it is that nothing seems right in Oregon now.

Generally Known as "Deacon."

It was many years ago that Mr. Dobyns became known as "Deacon," a title that became so generally used that few persons in his home town and county knew him by any other name. He acquired the title at one of the meetings of the Northwest Missouri Press Association. Mr. Dobyns had made a talk in which he advocated a stricter adherence to religious principles in newspaper work. Frank Freytag facetiously suggested that Dobyns be denominated the deacon of the association. The suggestion took and the name struck.

Mr. Dobyns for many years was regarded as the nestor of the Northwest Missouri Press Association. He was one of the organizers and held various offices in the earlier years of its existence.

David Pollock Dobyns was born in St. Louis January 25, 1845. His ancester came from England about the time of the Revolutionary War. Mr. Dobyns was educated in the common schools of St. Louis. He was 15 years old when the Civil War began and served as a Union soldier in the 1st and 40th Missouri infantry regiments.

To Oregon in 1876.

At the close of the war he returned to St. Louis and, like most young men just out of military service, he tried several fields of effort before he found the one that suited him. He was a bookkeeper on a Mississippi River steamboat for a time and later joined a theatrical company playing in St. Louis. Between times he learned the profession of dancing master.

He finally decided that the printer's trade was the thing for him and began his apprenticeship in the office of the Missouri Argus, at Macon, in March, 1868. He went to St. Joseph in the spring of 1876 with the intention of working in the composing room. But the business office learned that he was a bookkeeper and he was given the position of cashier.

In the fall of 1876 he came to Oregon, and became identified with the county paper. It had been the Holt County Sentinel before that, but somebody attached the illogical name of county paper to it. Dobyns at once changed the name back to the Sentinel which name it still bears. In 1883 Tom Curry was taken in as partner and the firm of Dobyns & Curry is known all over this part of the state as successful, enterprising publishers of one of the oldest country newspapers in the west.

Edited Sentinel 48 Years.

For forty-eight years he edited the Sentinel. He saw it grow from a small hand-set four page paper printed on a man killing hand press to a neat, attractive publication of eight pages, produced in a plant equipped with all the modern appliances with which printing offices are equipped.

Mr. Dobyns was a consistent, hard working editor. He seldom took a vacation and was "on the job" by night as well as by day. Many years ago he was impressed with the importance of preserving the historical data of his country. Accordingly he started a "morgue" and an index system, which he kept until a short time ago. The completeness of his historical and statisitcal data, and the ease with which he could produce information on any event in Holt county history for half a century, was often commented upon by newspaper workers in various sections of the country. It has been the subject for many "feature" stories in big city Sunday newspapers. A few years ago the history of Holt county was published in book form. It was compiled almost wholly from information secured from "Deacon" Dobyns' library.

An "Uncompromising Republican."

Politically he was what he himself described as an "uncompromising Republican." His best editorial efforts were put forth in the support of his party and he was rated as one of the foremost writers on political subjects in Missouri. During the nearly half century he served the people of Oregon and Holt County he never sought but one political position which wielded financial returns. He was postmaster at Oregon from July 1, 1889, to November 30, 1893. At one time he served as a member of the Republican state committee and was a presidential elector in the electoral college when Warren G. Harding was made President.

Forty-five years ago Mr. Dobyns became a member of the Christian church and was always interested in the work of the church of his home town. Fraternally he was an Odd Fellow in which society he bore the title of past grand master and past grand reresentative. He was also a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and held every office in the local post at different times.

Mr. Dobyns was married at Macon, Mo., in April, 1870, to Miss Emma Greer. Their family consists of three children: Edwin B., of Marceline, Mo.; Leigh B., of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Charles G. Markel of San Franciseo.

The funeral was held at Oregon at 2 o'clock this afternoon. His son, Edwin B. Dobyns of Marceline, Mo., was at the bedside at the time of his death.

About 30 Take Part in Flag Tournament

Which Is Held Yesterday At The Maryville Country Club—M. Lewis Jr., Reuillard, Hull Get Prizes

About thirty members of the Maryville Country Club participated in the Flag Tournament held on the local links yesterday and placed flags at the end of their 45th stroke. Martin Lewis, Jr., won the flag tournament, his ball on the 45th stroke reaching the seventh green. He was awarded a golf ball as the prize.

Frank Reuillard was judged to be nearest the unknown point number one, which was just seventy-five yards short of green No. 5. C. M. Hull was judged to be nearest the other unknown point on his forty-fifth stroke, the unknown being located on the bunker of the fairway number 6. Both Reuillard and Hull were given golf balls as prizes.

Several families took their picnic dinners out to the Country Club yesterday. In the evening an extensive display of fireworks was exhibited and the evening came to a close with a dance.

LA FOLLETTE'S HAT TOSSED INTO RING

SENATOR ACCEPTS INVITATION FROM CONVENTION.

HIS SON READS ANSWER

"Premature" Move To Nominate Is Blocked—Declares Both Parties Failed In Accomplishments.

Cleveland, July 5.—Formal acceptance of the invitation to run for President was given the conference for progressive political action late yesterday by Senator La Follette.

It was read by his son, Robert La Follette, jr., introduced as "a chip off the old block."

"To those who gave me the honor of this invitation I owe an unequivocal answer," said the statement. It proceeded to make unequivocal acceptance of the convention's indorsement.

"Into Every State."

I shall submit my name as an independent candidate for President, in every state of the union," said Senator La Follette. "I am a candidate on the basis of my public record."

He added that the Wisconsin platform would be the basis of his campaign.

President Coolidge was called "the frank defender of organized wealth" by the message, which added that the Democratic platform adopted at New York did not meet the needs of the nation.

"The fact representatives of organized wealth voted for the platform," he added, "is sufficient proof of its character."

Even if both the Democratic and Republican parties had adopted progressive platforms, the people would know neither could be trusted to keep their pledges, he said.

"The real issues have been ignored by the two old parties," La Follette contended, adding that both presidential nominees would owe a debt to bosses and big business.

"The people already have given proof in recent elections they recognize the real issues that confront them. They know powerful interests confront the government," and he added that the underlying reason "both parties have failed to take the people's side is that neither is in position to attack the evil forces controlling the government."

Plank Adopted for the Summer Campaign

Dr. Curl and Family Return Home Yesterday

Cover 3,600 Miles In Automobile Through the Eastern States—Never Had a Flat Tire.

Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Curl and children Oliver and Eloise returned last evening from a 3,600 mile automobile tour of the Eastern states. They visited with Mrs. Curl's mother, Mrs. C. E. Hayden at Ada, Ohio, and with Dr. Curl's mother, Mrs. O. A. Curl at Hillsboro, Ind.

From there they went east to Washington, D. C., visited at Mount Vernon and Arlington. At Cincinnati, Ohio, they visited with their son, William, who is attending the engineering department of the Cincinnati University, but this summer is employed by the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., and is now trouble finder for the concern.

The Curl family came back by the way of Chicago.

Dr. Curl said that they covered most of the distance both ways in cloudy weather and ran into the storms that were prevalent in the Eastern states. The Dixie Highway in Ohio, over which they passed, was completely covered with water when they came through.

The Doctor said this afternoon that he found good roads most of the way and that east of the Mississippi the roads are hard-surfaced the greater portion. The longest day's journey that they made in their car was 348 miles. The remarkable thing of the journey, Dr. Curl said, was that he covered the entire distance without a flat tire. The tires contained Missouri air until the time they arrived in Washington, D. C.

Tomorrow Dr. Curl will preach in the morning at Arkoe and at the Methodist Church in Savannah in the evening.

Recommend Legislators Visit all Institutions

Will Be More Comprehensive of Needs and Conditions If They Do Such

St. Joseph, Mo. — "I believe every member of the state legislature should visit state institutions of this kind so that they will comprehend the problems we are up against, and thereby be qualified to act more intelligently on such matters," said Dr. Porter Williams, superintendent of State Hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph.

Many improvements are needed at the St. Joseph institution. A new ward building should be erected. The dairy barn is run down and a new one should be provided. Under present conditions, it is necessary that the attendants sleep in the wards with the patients, after having been on duty. "This is a strain on the attendants and there should be an appropriation made for an attendants' building where they could rest and sleep away from the inmates," urges Dr. Williams.

The buildings at State Hospital No. 2 are old and in constant need of repair. There should be set aside by the legislature, an adequate paint and repair fund so that the buildings and equipment may be kept in first-class condition.

Improvements have been made at the institution recently. The new surgical hospital which was opened last November is the best equipped of its kind in the United States. One hundred and thirty-five operations have been performed by Dr. Williams and his assistants since the hospital has been opened. "We always seek the consent of the patients' relatives before we operate," says Dr. Williams," and they are welcome to come and witness the operation if they desire to do so." The dental department is another outstanding feature. It is complete and modern in every detail.

Calvin Coolidge, Jr. Is Taken to Hospital

Mrs. Coolidge accompanied hom from the White House where he has been under treatment for three days.

Catch a 41 1-2 Pound Fish in the Platte

Ravenwood People Feast on Monster This Morning—Took Three Men To Pull Fish to Shore.

Perhaps the biggest fish ever caught in the Platte River, near Ravenwood, was pulled out of the stream yesterday by Faye and J. S. Casteel and E. D. Lawson, all of Ravenwood. The monster was a Missouri River catfish that tipped the scales at forty-one and a half pounds.

The men got him in a siene and took all three of the party to get the fish on the bank. This morning for breakfast he furnished meals for a good many families in Ravenwood. Miss Gertrude Horton, said this morning that her father and mother had part of it but that the meat was rather coarse. The big fish had evidently had a lunch the night before as inside of him was found a three pound red horse.

Miss Epha Drumm returned Wednesday evening from Conway, Ia., and was accompanied home by Frances and Arlene Drumm, who will spend the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tracy.

FRANCE TRIES TO HIKE IMMIGRATION

MANPOWER REDUCED BY RAVAGES OF WORLD WAR.

MANY DRIFT TO CITIES

From Agricultural Sections—Does Not Diminish Desire of Foreigners Coming to U. S.

Washington, July 5—While the United States is fighting to restrict importation of foreign labor, France, her manpower disastrously reduced by the ravages of the World War, is vigorously striving to stimulate immigration.

This information has been sent to the Department of Commerce by Chester Lloyd Jones, of the American Consular Bureau in Paris, and is believed by officials to reflect a strong effort toward complete rehabilitation in France.

Not only did the war bring about a terrible devastation of a wide strip of Northern France, from Alsasce to the Channel ports through the German invasion, but agricultural fields of the south, the great industrial plants and the municipalities were sadly neglected during the four years of bloodshed.

With the flower of France's manhood dead or disabled by the war, a great deal of the rehabilitation at first fell to boys, old men and women. The task was too great, resulting in the Government's looking to foreign sources of labor to rush the work forward that France may again become a great producing nation.

A general drift of the agricultural population toward the cities has resulted in scarcity of farm labor; several tremendous public works on which by law labor is limited to an eight-hour day and other factors have further increased the demands for men.

While the importation of common labor was free before the war, it is at present subject to strict governmental regulations, which include not only supervision within the country but a number of international conventions to regulate conditions under which imported laborers shall work. Of these there exist one with Italy, one with Poland and another with Czecho-Slovakia.

In general the provisions of these agreements require that the immigrants shall have perfect equality of treatment with French laborers, so far as salaries and accident insurance are concerned.

Private employers are required to make arrangements for the use of imported labor through the French Labor Office.

During 1922 180,000 foreign workmen were introduced into France, while 50,000 left the country. In this year those involved in the movement of labor into and from France were chiefly Italians and Spaniards. Since then, however, the change in the direction of the flow of common labor and the increase in the demand in France have brought a number of other nations into the field, including Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Italy, Great Britain, Switzerland, Russia, Belgium, Greece and Northern Africa.

In 1923 great numbers of foreigners were employed in industries including iron mining, coal mining, metal working, agriculture and building. During the closing months of last year foreign laborers were arriving in France at the rate of about 4,500 weekly and leaving at the rate of approximately 1,300 weekly.

Officials admitted, however, that the strong demand for labor in France and some other European countries is by no means diminishing the desire of foreigners from the same countries to come to the United States. It was pointed out, in spite of the governmental regulations applying to employment of labor abroad the wages, hours and living standards will never be as satisfactory in Europe as in this country.

Europeans ever look on the United States as a land of opportunity, where money literally grows on trees. This viewpoint was accentuated greatly by the attitude of American soldiers in Europe during the war. Few of the Yanks ever looked upon the European currency which fell into their hands as of any value except to get rid of as fast as possible. Hence the Europeans regarded every American soldier as a real millionaire.

TODAY'S VAUDEVILLE PATTER.

Biff—What are dog days?

Bang—I suppose those after the honeymoon.

Two women were talking on the street the other day within hearing of the observer of the passerby. "Why don't you ask the advice of your husband?" asked one. "I intend to," replied her friend, "just as soon as I have decided what I want to do."

SOUTHERN CHURCH IN FAVOR OF UNITY

CHATTANOOGA CONFERENCE WOULD MEND BREACH.

NOW UP TO DISTRICTS

Must Get Two-Thirds Majority—Vote Is 297 to 75—Recently Adopted at Springfield.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 5. — The proposal for organic union of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was approved last yesterday by the general conference of the Southern church in special session here. It now goes to the annual conferences for ratification.

The Methodist Episcopal general conference at Springfield, Mass., recently accepted the proposal and ordered it submitted to its annual conferences in 1925 if the Southern general conference should act favorably.

The official vote was 297 to 75.

Should two-thirds of all the members of the Southern conferences ratify the proposal the next step would be a meeting of the bishops of the two churches as one body to notify their respective general conferences of ratification of the union. They also would call upon the two conferences to meet in joint session in the same city.

The regular general conference of the Northern church, not meeting again until 1928, a special conference probably would be called in May, 1926, when the regular general conference of the Southern church will be in session.

Another resolution requesting the annual conferences vote on ratification by secret ballot was adopted yesterday.

Guests Get Raw Deal at Uncooked FoodBanquet

Los Angeles, July 5.—Two hundred persons got a raw deal here recently at a banquet in the Ambassador Hotel, Cocoanut Grove.

The affair was arranged in honor of Dr. St. Louis Estes, founder of the American Raw Food Society.

On the menu everything was as raw as a Chicago wind. The centerpiece was a bunch of exotic vegetables all brightened up with watercress. There were salads and entrees and, finally, raw pie like mother never dreamed of making.

The pie was made of dates, prunes, nuts and bananas, set down in a crust of whole wheat, baked in the sun.

Finally the last course came in. It was nuts and radishes. Raw! raw! raw!

Journalists Vote Maryville Business Men Royal Hosts

Members of th... ...mer field trip class of the School of Journalism, University of Missouri. Left to right, first row: O. K. Armstrong, Columbia, Mo.; W. J. Peterson, Lake Mills, Ia.; Guy E. Yeldell, St. Louis; Charles Nutter, Falls City, Neb. Back row: Prof. Robert S. Mann, Columbia, Mo.; Irvin Borders, Kansas City, Mo.; Roscoe B. Ellard, Beloit, Wis.; James T. Hague, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Charles H. McMurtry, Carthage, Mo.; Ben K. H. Nee, Shanghai, China.

"Royal hosts and a peach of a town." This statement voiced the sentiment of the nine students and instructor from the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri who are in Maryville today on a field trip that in its entirety embraces a distance of 3200 miles over three states.

The journalists arrived in Maryville at noon on the Burlington and were immediately taken by members of the Chamber of Commerce to the State Teachers College residence hall where lunch was served for them and for the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and representatives of both Maryville newspapers.

Following this they were shown through the State Teachers College by M. E. Selecman, director of information, after which they were taken on an automobile trip around Maryville. The Bellows farm and the Townsend stables were visited on this tour.

At 4 o'clock the members of the party were taken for a swim in a local swimming pool. This swim will last until 5 o'clock following which they will be the guests of the Democrat-Forum and the Maryville Tribune at a picnic supper at the Country Club.

The visitors will leave Maryville tonight on the 7:40 o'clock Wabash train for Omaha where they will rest over Sunday before continuing their trip.

Those in the party are: Prof. Robert S. Mann of the School of Journalism, in charge of the trip; O. K. Armstrong, Columbia, Mo.; Irvin Borders, Kansas City, Mo.; Roscoe B. Ellard, Beloit, Wis.; James T. Hague, Council Bluffs, Ia.; C. H. McMurtry, Carthage, Mo.; Ben K. H. Nee, Shanghai, China; Charles Nutter, Falls City, Nebr.; W. J. Peterson, Lake Mills, Ia.; Guy E. Yeldell, St. Louis, Mo.

Oh! The Conventional Joys of the Daily Journalist's Existence

After sixty-seven hours and six minutes of Democratic-Brawl the tired journalist, still a public servant, is on hand for a hard day's labor on the Fourth of July. With ears cauliflowered by ear phones and with eyes glazed by row after row of figures he takes his trusty typewriter in his none too steady hand to record the event of the day, the fifteenth session of the never to be forgotten Democratic National Convention.

Auto races are forgotten, picnic dinners fade off into a gustatory memory and thoughts of Mother's pies will have to be cast aside until the next Fourth when there will probably be a prize fight to be covered. Oh! this pleasant, easy journalistic existance. ! ? ?.

And now Mr. Chairman, Beg pardon, I mean gentle reader, a little resolution to be introduced. No it's not a resolution, it's a motion, or perhaps better a little editorial comment. The insistant questioning of bystanders, the incessant ringing of the telephones, all begging to know who will be nominated or why someone hasn't been nominated—all of this is growing a bit irksome and exasperating, but still we maintain our sunny smile and schoolgirl complexion, and, ever striving to be courteous, we reply that we just can't answer.

But nevertheless, we like it; we love it. Else would we do it for nothing? Pooh Pooh on your million dollar jobs. We live only for our chosen profession. Oh, the fascination of the courtroom, the joy of the murder, the glee of the fire, the happiness of the tornado, the ecstasy of the convention; all of these make life worth living. We bubble over with enthusiasm for our calling, even as a freshly cracked beer bottle. Tillie turn the crank!

But then a sixty-some ballot convention can only happen once in a lifetime. No reporter could live through more than one, so let's up and at 'em.

But, we reflect, can we be more tired than you, rugged reader. (For you must be both rugged and sturdy if you have read through all of this.) Of course we cannot. Seated out in your soft cushioned automobile with nothing but the balmy breeze to kiss your pink, shell-like ears, you are doubtless experiencing the same as we, on our rock bottomed chairs with our granite head set crushing the epidermis of our auditory organs.

So why should we worry; why should we fret; let's smoke another cigarette.

And with this final gurgle the worn-our reporter dropped off into a peaceful sleep, yes, into utter oblivion.

Rev. Fr. Joachim Sent to Pilot Grove

(Conception Courier).

After a decate as pastor of Holy Family Parish, Rev. Fr. Joachim left on Tuesday, last, for his new charge at Pilot Grove.

During the ten years of his service among the people of this parish, the Rev. Father completed the building of our beautiful church, erected a large and commodious parish house and beautified the grounds surrounding these buildings to such an extent that the church property here stands as a tribute to his energy and industry.

He devoted his time to the benefit of his parishioners and the upbuilding of the parish and endeavored to reduce the debt against the parish in all of which he was remarkably successful.

The congregation of Holy Family Parish regrets very much his departure from among them and sincerely hope that he will be eminently successful in his new field of labor.

As a mark of respect and esteem in which he was held a reception was tendered him at the Pastime Theater last Sunday evening, at the close of which the good Father was presented with a substantial purse which he used in the purchase of a new Dodge roadster.

"Men's shoes will be conservative," said a fashion note in the paper the other day, meaning, we suppose, that the average fellow will wear the same old shoes with, perhaps, a few repairs.

NEW PHYSICAL ED. COURSE EXPLAINED

Senior year, the time previously given to hygiene would be given to the study of physiology.

According to the second plan the work would be organized on a basis of one-fourth unit each year with a maximum of one period 40 minutes in length every other day. There should be a minimum of ninety periods during the year with about seventy periods in physical exercise and twenty periods in hygiene. In addition there should be given a one unit course in physiology organized as a science in the Junior or Senior year

It will be one of the most important duties of the Physical Director to organize a course for the grade teachers in games and physical activities in order to prepare them to conduct the work with their children. In general, such a course should occupy about one hour a week immediately after school or on Saturday morning.

It will be a great advantage for the Physical Director to organize a class of leaders, perhaps largely from the teacher-training class, who can assist him in the activities.

In the Fall and Spring, so far as possible, all the work should be taken out-of-doors. During the Freshman and Sophomore years, there should be in Fall terms not less than 20 regular periods in volley ball, with fifteen or twenty periods in dodge ball, tennis and soccer, and at least ten periods given to the second and third athletic badge tests.

Most of the high school students will be found to be round-shouldered with forward slanting heads. During the winter and inclement weather much attention should be given to posture and the correction of these defects.

There should be short recesses each morning and afternoon, with relief drills of two or three minutes when needed.

In the Spring there should be at least 20 periods of indoor base ball for both boys and girls, or regular base ball for boys, if there is room. There should be at least ten periods of track, tennis or soccer. Training for the athletic badge tests should be continued.

Juniors and Seniors who have passed the triple posture test and the athletic badge tests should be given a somewhat wider range of choice of activities in the Spring and Fall.

In schools without playgrounds or gymnasiums, permission should be secured to close certain streets at certain times for marching, running, gymnastics and such games as volley ball, dodge ball, end ball and captain ball. Such outside activities as hiking, swimming, tennis and the boy scouts and camp fire girls should be consistently encouraged. Calisthenics, posture, drills and corrective exercises may be taken in the class room.

All children entering inter-school contests should have a careful physical examination by a competent physician. The number of out of town contests should not exceed four or five for any team, with few if any such meets for girls. Young and light boys should be discouraged or prohibited from playing on inter-school football teams.

In order to carry out this program, each class room beginning with the fourth grade should be supplied with the following standard equipment:

1 volley ball	$6.50
1 volley ball	$5.00
2 outseam playground balls at $1.75	$3.50
2 playground bats at 75c	$1.50
2 girls' playground bats at 25c,	.50
Total cost of separate items in set	$17.00
For each school, 2 valley ball nets	$4.50

The prices here given are of Lowe and Campbell of Kansas City and of Leacock of St. Louis. Spalding is making substantially the same offer but on a slightly different grade of material at a slightly different price. In ordering a set of grade school, the "Standard Playground Set for Graded Schools" should be asked for. At least two sets should be provided for each high school, also.

All high school boys and girls should be urged to pass the second and third standard athletic badge tests, which are uniform throughout the United States and represent a standard accomplishment. The state Department is now having a special state medal prepared for the winners of this contest.

Beginning this Fall, the State High School Letter will be offered to all high school students on a basis of 1000 points. Each high school in which 50 per cent of the Juniors and Seniors pass the second and third athletic badge tests and the triple posture test, and 25 per cent of the Seniors win the State Letter, will receive from the State Department a "Diploma of Merit in Physical Education." Schools wherein 75 per cent of the Juniors and Seniors pass the second and third athletic badge tests and the triple posture test, and 50 per cent of the Seniors win the State Letter, will receive from the State Department a "Diploma of Distinguished Merit in Physical Education."

State Superintendent.
